A group of people are gathered around a table in a dimly lit room. A single candle is lit on the table, casting a warm glow. The scene is overlaid with semi-transparent text boxes containing a prayer. The lighting is a mix of red and blue, creating a dramatic and somewhat somber atmosphere. The people are looking towards the camera or slightly away. The text is in a bold, white, sans-serif font.

Amen.

The image is a square collage composed of four distinct, textured panels. The top-left panel is a mix of dark purple and blue with some greenish highlights. The top-right panel is a mix of light pink, purple, and yellow. The bottom-left panel is a mix of brown, tan, and black, with some lighter, almost white, spots. The bottom-right panel is a mix of dark purple, brown, and black. The overall effect is a complex, multi-colored texture.
